

CAR KILLS WOMAN AND HIDES HER BODY

Moorestown Trolley Catches Mrs. George Williamson, of Mt. Holly, Between Trucks

3 OTHERS DIE IN ACCIDENTS

A woman was struck by a trolley car at Moorestown, N. J., yesterday, and it was five minutes before her body was found, wedged up between the front trucks. Three other persons were killed and five were injured in other traffic accidents in and around Philadelphia.

The woman was Mrs. George Williamson, of Mt. Holly, N. J. She was riding to Mt. Holly from Camden with her husband where their automobile slipped from the roadway into the excavated cartrack.

She and her husband were standing in front of the machine when a north-bound trolley car struck it in the rear. Mr. Williamson was thrown to the pavement. The car continued for about fifty feet.

Mrs. Williamson could not be found. It was thought she had become frightened and fled. Mr. Williamson had only minor injuries. The car crew was proceeding to proceed, when the woman's body was seen under the trucks. It was more than an hour before the car could be jacked up and the body released.

Child Dies Bravely

A three-year-old boy, pinned to the street by a trolley car, met death without a whimper. The boy was Max Novick, 354 York avenue. He was arrested at Fourth and Cullowhill streets. The boy was playing in the street when the trolley struck him and he was dragged under the trucks.

Fully conscious, Max watched the trolleyman jack up the car and never cried. He became unconscious when released and died shortly after being admitted to the Hahnemann Hospital. The motorman was arrested.

Michael Leonard, fifty-six years old, 5625 North Fifth street, was killed by an automobile at Fifth and Grange streets. Charles Coleman, of 5003 North Ninth street, the driver, was arrested.

Boy of Six Killed

John Campbell, six years old, 143 North Eleventh street, Camden, was killed by an automobile at Twelfth and Federal streets, Camden. Charles Flinn, 2762 Federal street, the driver, was held in jail pending an investigation.

William C. Care, twenty-seven years old, 107 Penn street, Camden, was hurt by an automobile at Tenth and Market streets as he stepped from a trolley car. Physicians at the Jefferson Hospital say he will recover.

Leona Kieclinsky, two years old, of 4427 Silverwood street, Manayunk, received cuts and bruises when struck by a trolley car near her home.

Mrs. Lucy McInterh, thirty years old, of 2002 Winghooking avenue, and Arthur Peckas, twenty years old, of 2031 Christian street, suffered injuries when the motor car in which they were riding collided with a truck at Sixty-second and Spruce streets. The truck was being driven by Frank Burns, of 3212 Locust street. Mrs. McInterh is in a critical condition at the Misericordia Hospital. Peckas and Burns were placed under arrest by the police of the Fifty-fifth and Pine streets station after Peckas had received treatment for his injuries.

Skull May Be Broken

When the automobile which he borrowed for a little ride upset at Lancaster avenue and Forty-eighth street, early yesterday morning, W. A. Bleuritt, twenty-four, of 507 North Thirtieth street, sustained a possible fracture of his skull and a badly lacerated right eye. In addition to his injuries, Bleuritt will have to face a charge of reckless driving and driving without a license as soon as he is released from the West Philadelphia Homeopathic Hospital, where he was taken after the accident.

Bleuritt, it is alleged, was driving at a rapid rate of speed, when, in an attempt to avoid a collision, turned sharply, causing his machine to upset. The car was borrowed from an employe of a local automobile company.

GIMBEL PLAN PUTS "HEART IN BUSINESS"

Co-operative Scheme Announced at Banquet Arouses Interest Among Employes

Store owners and employes alike are discussing today the new plan of co-operation which has been introduced among the 4000 members of the Gimbel store family, which was announced at the anniversary banquet on Saturday night.

The completeness of the plan and the many innovations which it introduces, all looking to the future advancement of the worker and the increase in his personal happiness as well as his efficiency in business, contain elements considerably more far-reaching than most systems hitherto evolved.

In announcing the establishment of the scheme, Robert H. Preston, manager of the Philadelphia store, said: "We realize what the lack of houses in Philadelphia means to our employes. Perhaps the biggest part of this plan is to take care of this situation for our people. When employes are confronted with the alternative of vacating their homes of buying them money will be loaned them to purchase their homes."

"The future leaders of our organization must come from the youth of our ranks. To stimulate ambition and encourage talent, fifty scholarships will be placed at Temple University, the Philadelphia Textile School or the Wharton School at the University of Pennsylvania. Every employe is eligible for these scholarships, the winner each year to be picked from the previous twelve months' record of productive efficiency."

"Pensions are to be at the following rate and based upon the average salary earnings for the previous ten years: Thirty-five per cent for employes having served twenty-five years, 40 per cent after thirty years, 45 per cent after thirty-five years and 50 per cent after forty years. "Sufficient funds are being added to the present fund which will increase the weekly allowance for sick benefits by at least 40 per cent.

"Besides the usual two weeks' summer vacation with full pay for employes who have served more than two years, members of the Quarter-Century Club will receive an additional week in the winter. For mothers who are carrying the wage-earner's burden, in addition to the irreplaceable mother's care, the plan provides free vacations, not just a stay-at-home vacation, but a real rest, with money enough to take all the children away so that there shall be no worry—no anxiety to mar the full benefit of the vacation.

"And for any employe, in case of emergency, there will be available the same loan fund, established ten years ago, to protect employes from 'loan sharks.' No security and no interest will be necessary to get a loan." "We are just trying to put a heart in business," was the terse way Jacob Gimbel summed up the plan in an address delivered after Mr. Preston.

TWO MOTORISTS DROWN

Father Saved, Mother and Child Die in Ashland Reservoir

Ashland, Oct. 18.—William Henry Grady, superintendent of the Oak Hill Coal Co. at Minersville, with his wife and child, were toppled into the Ashland reservoir when the car in which they were riding skidded in turning out to pass another. A motorist later noticing the bright lights under the surface of the water stopped to investigate and found Mr. Grady caught in the machine just managing to keep his head above the water. They released him and later found the dead body of the child with its mother at the bottom of the reservoir. Mrs. Grady was hurried to the hospital at Fountain Spring, but she died on the way.

J. B. Van Sciver Co. Furniture Values That Help Thousands to Increase the Comforts of the Winter Home

Right in line with the economical trend of the times, when the great Furniture values of this wonderful Autumn Exhibit are more convincing than words, we invite comparisons with the thousands of Suites and Pieces we are offering at prices that are as low as it is possible for Furniture of high quality to be, anywhere.

The great things we have been doing in the Furniture world for nearly forty years speak with more emphasis and economy now, when we are hewing the margin of profit closer to the costs of production, than at any time since the war began. Doing more, in fact, than our full share in the country-wide effort to bring Furniture costs down to figures that make living easier and homes happier.

There is additional proof of this in the thousands of dollars' worth of Suites and Pieces—special lots coming to us unsolicited from leading manufacturers in need of ready money—that are marked still lower than the low prices that have advanced this Great Store to its commanding position in the Furniture World.

$925.00 HEPPELWHITE MAHOGANY SUITE, 10 PIECES—NOW $725.00

The 78-in. Buffet, the 54-in. 8-foot Extension Table, the 28x64-in. China Closet, 44-in. Serving Table and Classic Chairs, with their deep blue leather-covered seats, not only exemplify the art of the Designer and Master Craftsmen, but we do not believe anything as handsome can be had at anywhere near the above price in the country.
